

Introduction

Zeepaard; (Seahorse: a unique and mysterious sea creature).

The Zeepaard range of wines is named after the Dutch ship “Gulden Zeepaard”, the first vessel to sail within sight of the West Australian coastline. It is an exciting new line-up of wines from renowned producer, West Cape Howe, based in the town of Denmark on Western Australia’s rugged, southern coastline.

The Wines & Fruit Source

Zeepaard wines are fresh, vibrant, fruit-driven and approachable; truly reflective of the Australian lifestyle. The wines have been sealed with screw-cap closures to ensure a reliable product (free of cork taint), every time.

The major fruit source for Zeepaard wines is the Company’s Landsdale Vineyards, based in the Mt Barker sub-region. Planted in 1989, the vineyards are now some of the oldest in the area. The properties have approximately 80 hectares currently under vine.

Specific parcels of fruit are also sourced from around the state, to complement the specific vintage offering.

The Winemakers

Chief Winemaker, Gavin Berry, heads the West Cape Howe team. Highly regarded internationally for making world class wines, he joined the team in mid 2004, following a successful 16 year career as CEO for Plantagenet Wines. Gavin’s hands on approach in winemaking and marketing makes him an integral part of the Company’s ongoing success. Gavin is assisted by experienced Senior Winemaker, Dave Cleary.
